

Ohlédnutí za dnešním dnem

A large, light grey rectangular area occupies the center of the page, serving as a workspace for reflection. A vertical line runs down the center of this area, dividing it into two columns. On the left side of the left column, there are eight short horizontal dashes. On the right side of the right column, there are also eight short horizontal dashes, aligned with the ones on the left. This layout is intended for a structured reflection on the day's events.
